

Work Study Financial Assistance Program

Ridgewood School offers work study opportunities to families who need assistance to offset the cost of tuition. All families that receive financial aid must participate in the Work Study program. Hours are recorded throughout the year to ensure that obligations are met by both the families receiving assistance and Ridgewood School.

So that we may better match your talents and skills to the activities and functions on our parent work study list, please fill out the information below and return it to Ridgewood School at your earliest convenience. We rely on the help of parent volunteers to defer operating costs which allows us to continue offering tuition assistance. Thank you!
